The BLID Announcement Bulletin lists British report literature and translations produced by British government organisations, industry, universities and learned institutions, as well as most doctoral theses accepted at British Universities during and after 1970. Because the Bulletin was intended primarily to be a current awareness tool, and past volumes have therefore not included annual indexes. In response to suggestions from users, individual issues of the Bulletin now have a personal author index, and this volume is the 1979 annual cumulation of the author index.

Reference operate on the same system as for the author index to each monthly part, eg:

SMITH D 79-05-69

means that the listing of the entry by D Smith is to be found in BAB for 1979, part number 5 (May) and on page 69 of that part.

When any of the items listed in the Bulletin are requested from the Lending Division it is essential that the lines indicated by an asterisk be quoted.

Under the auspices of SCONUL, the Lending Division has since 1970 been trying to increase the utilisation of British doctoral theses by microfilming theses of the universities co-operating in the project, and announcing their availability in the BLLD Announcement Bulletin.

Duplicates of these films are made available for loan, and retention copies of most theses can be provided as positive microfilm or as xerographic enlargements. Requests for retention copies of British doctoral theses for addition to library stock cannot be fulfilled. Any request for a British thesis must be accompanied by a special copyright declaration form (reproduced below) signed by the person wishing to consult, or purchase it. Copies of this declaration form are available from Loans Enquiries, Lending Division.

To date some 25,000 theses have been microfilmed and this number is rapidly increasing as additional universities join the scheme. About three-quarters of the doctoral theses currently produced in the UK are now being made available through the Lending Division. The complete list of participating institutions is as follows:-

Aberdeen University (1975 onwards)	University of London (1974 onwards)*
University of Aston in Birmingham (1972 onwards)	Loughborough University of Technology (1972 onwards)

A small number of theses from other universities received by the BLLD in the guise of reports have also been included in the microfilming programme. The following universities have also expressed an interest to participate but have not yet started sending theses: Bristol, Cardiff, Liverpool, Manchester.

*Please note: For doctoral theses earlier than 1974, as well as for all MPhil theses, and MAs, MScs prior to 1969, application should be made to the University of London Library, Senate House, London, WC1E 7HU and not to individual Colleges or Institutes.

BLL Conference Index 1964-1973

Conference proceedings are an increasingly numerous and important form of communication. It is however notoriously difficult to identify published conference proceedings, because they can be referred to in different ways, which rarely conform to those used in standard bibliographical tools. The indexes published by the British Library Lending Division are a valuable aid to identification.

The British Library Lending Division has one of the most comprehensive collections of published proceedings of conferences, symposia, seminars, workshops, etc., in the world. Every effort is made to track down and acquire conference proceedings irrespective of subject and language, whether they appear as a regular series, as once-off publications, or as parts of original journals. The collection amounts to over 110,000 titles, 12,500 of them acquired in 1979.

The published indexes, produced by computer typesetting, provide access to the titles of conference proceedings by means of keywords and key phrases. Most of these are drawn from the titles themselves, but additional keywords (in English) are used where necessary. ISSNs and ISBNs are given in the entries when known (i.e. they appear on the publications indexed). (See back page for example).

* The 5-year cumulation, Index of Conference Proceedings Received 1974-1978, is in the process of preparation, and will be available early in 1980. It will contain details of some 53,000 conferences arranged under keyword headings. In view of its large size (over 2,000 pages) it will be produced in two volumes in hard covers.

The British Library Lending Division's indexes complement the Index to Scientific and Technical Proceedings published by the Institute for Scientific Information. The latter indexes the PAPERS in 3,000 conference proceedings while the Lending Division's indexes cover the TITLES of 12,500 conference proceedings a year.

With the assistance of either Current Serials Received or Keyword Index to Serial Titles, two of the Lending Division's publications, it is possible to identify the titles of journals given as Lending Division shelfmarks.

All of the items indexed are in the Lending Division stock, and are available through the normal loan/photocopy service (photocopies can be provided of only one paper in each volume). The indexes are therefore a useful means not only to identifying conference proceedings but to obtaining the documents themselves.
